EFFECT OF LIQUOR | ELABORATE CEREMONY

Subject of Michael J. Fanning at First Methodist Church Morning Service.

In Kansas, Maine and North Dakota Per Capita Consumption Less Than Half Pint.

Intemperance-its effects upon the Individual, its effect upon the home, its effect upon the community, its effect upon the state and upon the nation, was the subject of an address by Michael J. Fanning of Philadelphia at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning.

In his address Mr. Fanning said in part: "My entire life has been spent on the gigantic problem of intemperance. It is found everywhere and everywhere it is found it is clothed to the address of the party of the said said to in the self-same dress. It ruins homes. It challenges the work of the church, and it threatens the unity of the nation. Liquor traffic must be controlled. by proper legislation. Last year the receipts from liquor were more than $1,000,000 more than the year previous. Through the partial effort which has been made for prohibition, the liquor men have been compelled to find some other means besides the saloon to dis-pense their liquors. Will state-wide prohibition accomplish more than can be accomplished by general legislation? This is the question which many are asking today. In Maine, Kansas and North Dakota, where state-wide prohibition prevailed, there was not enough liquor sold to give each person in the state one-half pint for a year's con-sumption. If other states would do the same, we sure would be a dry na-

Supply Regulates Demand.

"In the instance of liquor traffic, the supply regulates the demand. Demand regulates the supply of only those things which are essential for life. Take the instance of the electric light. When | Route. there was no demand, there was no supply. As soon as the demand increased, the supply increased. There is, then, a great distinction between the forces which create a supply from the demand and those which create a demand from the supply. I can tell you little about the effect of alcoholic liquors upon man. Our women's tem-perance leagues have worked out this entire problem and can tell you more about the subject than I would venture

The appetite for alcoholic liquor increases or diminishes as the use of the stuff is indulged in. Stop the supply and the demand stops. Stop the demand and we will have better boys and better girls. The demand can only stopped by state-wide prohibition. Those who talk against prohibition tell us that if prohibition were inau-gurated, that the government in Washington would go bankrupt from lack of revenue. There is not government in Washington. There is not enough room in Washington for this great government. The men who are in Washington are hired by the people and sent there to great government. there to spend and collect our money. year an average of $8,700. The average license paid by these men was $350. By voting for liquor you vote for saloon men as license collectors and tax gatherers. This same man paid out for this privilege $350, and we, the people, paid to him for cellecting this tax of $350, $8,350.

"What are liquor men accomplishing by having the privilege of collecting this tax—this revenue? They are makwhere the heathen would throw their babes into the mouths of crocodiles. this age, are many fold more barbar ous than the heathen of old. We are throwing our boys and girls to the liquor traffic, which kills their bodies and damns their souls. Every one of us at election time toss our boys into the hungry, awaiting mouth of the liquor traffic—for revenue. "From England comes the report that I don't like the liberty which has sent men to the gallows and the electric chair, with their hands stained with human blood.
